Service Where it Counts

John Sommatino is the CEO of Wombo, Inc; a technology support services company. With 20 years of IT experience, John is well-versed in the issues that arise with business IT solutions. Every company wants the same things: Collaboration. Virtualization. Centralized management. Easy provisioning. And support.

In other words, they all want some form of the cloud.

But just because many businesses want the advantages of cloud computing, it's surprisingly difficult for John to find a provider he can entrust with his IT infrastructure. That's why he loves savvisdirect. He trusts them from migration to maintenance.

He particularly loves savvisdirect's centralized Management Console. "Being able to get all the products I need from one provider and manage them from a single interface like the Management Console means I wouldn't have to go back and forth between clients. I'm in control. I could see it all and manage it all in one place," he says. This one-stop dashboard provides a complete view of a company's cloud solution and offers an extremely simplified and user-friendly management experience.

John also loved the simplicity and power of savvisdirect's CloudServers, available in a variety of sizes and for any environment.

"Provisioning cloud servers was very easy. I simply picked the cloud servers I wanted, and after it was provisioned, if I needed to make changes to it, it was very easy." John remarked. "Just a couple of mouse clicks."

But John is most impressed by the support that comes with savvisdirect's FastForward Onboarding<sup>SM</sup>. FastForward Onboarding is the quickest way to the cloud, offering just the right amount of support for every need. Whether it's Self-Service Activation with access to blogs, Knowledge Base articles and other online content, or Guided Activation with additional phone support and set-up assistance, FastForward Onboarding makes an already easy IT solution even simpler.

"What makes savvisdirect stand apart from other providers is their level of service. It was well above anything I've ever seen. It was very easy to generate a ticket and talk to a person. They could even see all the things I was using together and prescribe fixes."

In his 20 years of experience, John has rarely seen a technology partner as good as savvisdirect. That's important, as cloud services and storage are the lifeblood of any organization. There's no room for error. But there's plenty of room for the added capability, productivity and reliability of cloud.
